

Sri L. Korrapati

Associate

Direct: 312.471.8786 Email: skorrapati@rshc-law.com

With deep experience in investigation, analysis, and motion practice related to toxic tort and other complex liability cases, Sri Korrapati helps clients develop and execute litigation strategies that mitigate risk and promote positive outcomes.

Clients value the strong communication skills and attention to detail Sri brings to her work identifying and investigating potential witnesses, preparing for and conducting crucial depositions, and drafting and delivering progress reports and other substantive memos and motions. In handling complex cases through all stages of litigation, she demonstrates keen analytic and research skills as well as diligence and good judgement.

Sri focuses her practice on serving clients in the industrial and commercial manufacturing and HVAC sectors and has handled matters related to premise and product liability and occupational injury as well as toxic torts. Her litigation experience includes representing clients in arbitration and mediation proceeding in addition to trial work.
