Joe O'Hara spent the first thirty-seven years of his legal career mastering the challenge of trial work, handling everything from complex commercial disputes to catastrophic personal injury cases to unconstitutional conditions in a now closed jail. His trial work took him across the country, and his record of success on behalf of his clients was extraordinary—so extraordinary, in fact, that the firm's largest client recruited him to come in house to create and implement a nationwide strategy to manage company-threatening litigation for almost a dozen years.

In 2018, Joe launched the final phase of his legal career representing inmates who suffered devastating constitutional violations at the hands of police and prosecutors. Joe was a key member of the RSHC trial team that delivered a 2021 $25.2M trial verdict involving a rigged lineup. Joe served a similar role in a physical abuse/fabricated confession case that resulted in a $14.5M settlement. More recently, Joe led RSHC teams that in 2024 won a petition for an inmate who suffered an unconstitutional sentencing and in 2025 won a petition before the Illinois Torture Commission. Joe continues to both lead and advise RSHC teams seeking to free and compensate those wrongfully incarcerated.
